One of the most audacious literary thefts on record says the Boston Advertiser, is perpetrated by a writer in the Overland Monthly for July In an article on the "Tichborne Dole," the writer has coolly appropriated a long description of the English country gentleman of the seventeenth century, from Macaulay's History of England.

Shillings and Some Other Things

Infatuated Canada fell in love with our decimal system of currency some years ago and adopted it, and some other countries have shown a strong inclination to do the same thing, under the mistaken notion that a decimal system is easy, simple, convenient and rational In fact, I believe we Americans generally tell foreigners that we find the counting by cents, dimes, very easy and convenient, but, of course, we do not believe anything of the kind. We never count money in that way. We do use the dollar as a sort of unit in our financial talk sometimes, but who ever heard an American tell the price of anything in dimes and cents?

When my English friend tells me he paid "eight pun' two" for his suit of clothes, or thirty guineas for his horse I know precisely what he means And I am equally clear about my French neighbor's meaning when he talks of francs or centimes or sous But when an American says that anything cost so many "shillings," I have to ask him where he was brought up, and then enter into a rather complicated arithmetical calculation in order to find out what he means, for this word shilling seems to represents a wholly indefinable, indeterminate quantity of money, with a value so various that the dictionary makers have abandoned its definition in despair and left it to be guessed at under a vague generalization And yet everybody says shilling with as much apparent confidence as one would feel in using the word horse And each person using it flatters himself that he knows precisely what the term means In New York, reason tells us that a shilling is twelve and a half cents In Virginia everybody knows that it is sixteen and two thirds cents while Boston people have no difficulty whatever in evolving from the depths of their inner consciousness the fact that the Virginians are right and the New Yorkers wrong For myself I have discovered that it is exactly equivalent to the letter X in the algebras and with this fact in hand I mean to astonish mankind with my great book, Every Man his own Circle Squarer, as soon as I shall have the requisite leisure

The use of the word penny is less common but in New York we persist in calling a cent a penny for some inscrutable reason or other though we religiously abstain from saying pence in the plural It is singular certainly The use of the old Spanish coins established twelve and a half cents as a kind of unit of price for drinks and calicoes all over the country and we maintain it still though under every possible name In the West this fractional sum with no coin or paper equivalent is known to everybody as a bit New Yorkers call it a shilling Virginians speak of it as a ninepence South Carolinians reverence it under the appellation of sevenpence while in Baltimore they laugh at you if you do not recognize in it the levy In Philadelphia they call it indifferently levy or eleven penny bit and the half of it is known as a fippenny bit

Fip[illegible] pence and picayune were once the local names for the sum of six and a quarter cents and they are all applied indifferently to the sixteenth or twentieth part of a dollar Two and threepence for thirty seven and a half cents is known only to Virginia I believe and they say seven and six there too but as I have forgotten the binomial theorem I cannot tell exactly how much seven and six is

While I am on the subject I may as well caution readers against the use of the word dime in the presence of Virginians I once remarked to some ladies in a Richmond parlor that something or somebody under discussion wasn't worth a dime and I am still remembered there as the man who swears in the presence of ladies [illegible]

A Lady Nearly Blind for 8 Years can now See to Read Fine Print, which is Due to the Skill of Dr. Aborn

PORTLAND Oregon, July 16 1872

TO THE PUBLIC —FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE afflicted I hereby state that my wife had been afflicted with granulated lids and inflamed sore eyes (caused by the measles) for the last eight years. They had become so bad that she could scarcely see to walk and the lids were inverted so that the eye [illegible] were turned in against the ball of the eye which would soon have caused total blindness One eye was as near totally destroyed that she could only just discern daylight, but now, thanks to the knowledge of DR. ABORN and his skillful operation, her lids are cured—they now raise up from the ball of the eye naturally The eye [illegible] do not turn in against the ball now but they assume their natural position This was effected by a neat surgical operation performed upon each eye by DR. ABORN The granulations are removed, and the inflammation cloud and spots are so completely removed from the eyes that she can see to read fine print We would have applied to the Doctor sooner than what we did but for outsiders trying to persuade us that the Doctor was not skilled in his profession, and that he would put her eyes out. But upon investigation I was convinced that he has never put any one's eyes out but found all his patients, and those who had been under his treatment unanimous in their praise of the Doctor's great success and skill in these delicate operations. I have been living in Seattle W T for the past six years, but have now removed to Kittitas Valley W T

We notice the return of Dr Aborn who has been paying a professional visit to the Sound country where he has performed a great number of miraculous cures and operations The Olympia Transcript speaks of him in the following terms "We call attention to the cards in to-day's paper in reference to the treatment and skill of Dr Aborn. He has been on the Sound but a few weeks, but in that time he has given such great benefit to many of our citizens that it is particularly worthy of note"

ANOTHER REMARKABLE CURE

[From the Olympia Tribune]

Elsewhere in our local columns will be found a letter from Mr John L Clark, testifying to the professional skill of Dr. Aborn Read it. Mr Clark is among the best known of our citizens, and the fact of his having been in poor health for some years is equally well known to many of his acquaintances The testimony he bears to the success of the Doctor's treatment in his case is of no doubtful character and should add largely to the reputation of the latter as a physician

A Distinction Made Clear.

Certain of our contemporaries are laying great stress on the fact that the OREGONIAN "admits" that S. F. May, late Secretary of State, though acquitted by a jury, did nevertheless wrongfully and unlawfully convert to his own use large sums of money that should have gone to the State, and that notwithstanding his acquittal, he is actually guilty.

No jury in these trials has decided that May did not convert money not belonging to him to his own use. For everybody in Oregon, including, of course, the gentlemen who constituted the juries before whom his case was laid, is perfectly aware that he did. What the jury in each case decided was that May was "not guilty as charged in the indictment." Their province was to try him on the indictments presented, and to find him guilty or not guilty. They found him not guilty, which simply shows that the indictments did not cover his case.

But we should outrage both the common sense and moral sense of the public were we to try to make it appear that these verdicts completely exonerated May. When, therefore, a Democratic journal undertook to place us in this position, it was not only proper but necessary for us to resent it. A shallow contemporary, which imagines that the public credulity can be imposed on to any extent, thinks it would have been better to try to make people believe that the ex-Secretary was entirely innocent, and it suggests that in expressing a doubt of this, we accuse the jurors who tried him of having committed perjury in rendering their verdict!

As before stated, the jurors were sworn to try the cases on the indictments presented, and to find in accordance with the evidence. In each case they found "not guilty as charged;" but this does not place them on the record as finding him innocent of the charge of appropriating large sums of money, which should have gone to the State, to his own use.

"Restoration of Local Government."

We are now told that one of the chief objects of the Greeley party is to "re-establish local government" in the Southern States, where it is alleged to have been superseded by a "centralized despotism," organized under the Ku Klux and other acts of Congress. Now here is what Mr. Greeley said on this subject less than a year ago:

> I hold our Government bound by its duty of protecting our citizens in their fundamental rights to pass and enforce laws for the extirpation of the execrable Ku Klux conspiracy; and if it has not the power to do it, then I say our Government is no government, but a sham. I therefore on every proper occasion advocated and justified the Ku Klux act. I hold it is especially desirable for the South; and if it does not prove strong enough to effect its purpose I hope it will be made stronger and stronger.

The law of Congress to regulate elections is also mentioned as one of the "despotic" acts which must be annulled in the interest of "local government." This act also owes its origin mainly to the efforts of Mr. Greeley. He demanded it as a measure of safety, to check the immense frauds of the Tammany Ring (who now support him) in elections. He declared that the State of New York had been carried by the Democrats by frauds which "ought to fill fifty State prisons to overflowing;" and he wanted Congress to enact a law that would block the game. After much deliberation the law was passed. Alluding to Democratic opposition to it, Greeley said that opposition grew out of the Democratic desire to carry elections by scoundrelism, and was proof that the "one thing the Democratic party could not abide was an honest election." That party, said he, was even prepared to defend its sacred right of repeating with the "slung shot and iron dog." These last expressions were used by him only a few months ago. He has now accepted the leadership of this party, and they are all yelling in concert for the repeal of the law which stands in the way of fraudulent voting.

It was supposed by many that George R. Helm, candidate on the Democratic electoral ticket, would withdraw rather than support Greeley, since George R. is so intensely "Democratic." It appears that he has been bored with many "inquiries" on the subject, to which he replies by a "card" in the Herald. He says he will stick; that it is his duty to make a "sacrifice." As to the fact of the "sacrifice," George R. is right. He will be sacrificed by at least two thousand majority. But how about the "inquiries," in another view? Do they not indicate a wide-spread anxiety on the part of the thick-and-thin Democracy to have Greeley repudiated? That, clearly, is what they mean.

The Bulletin reminds us that we haven't "retracted" the statement about Adair's being "an out-and-out secessionist." What reason have we to retract it? Only the Bulletin editor's word that Adair was not a secessionist, which is no reason at all. By the way, we may observe that our criticising neighbor hasn't yet retracted its statement that a certain person now writing daily for its columns was both a secessionist and a fool.

The Democratic Era (East Portland) seconds the Guard (Eugene City) in refusing to support Greeley. The Era says: "To support Greeley is not to support a Democrat or Democratic principles, and even in case of his election the grand old party of Jefferson sinks into oblivion."

In an excellent article the Sacramento Union says:

> "It is not Grant with whom the people are dissatisfied, whatever offense he may have given to a few party leaders. He has, in fact, been good, and virtuous, and great far beyond the men who surround him. His San Domingo movement does him no harm outside of a narrow circle of politicians headed by one grand statesman. His Indian policy is simply that of Washington. It could not be better. If the claim set up against Great Britain for consequential damages, is an error it is not Grant who is responsible for it, but Sumner; and we don't believe it is an error. If civil service reform has been brought low, neither is that the fault of the President, but rather of Congress. If the President fails of re-election, it will not be owing to any fault of his, unless it be that one of having deferred too much to the will of the Senate and House."

The gathering and preparation of sumac for the market is a new branch of industry. The sumac is a native production, and is indigenous in many parts of the country. It grows wild, and in the greatest abundance in many parts of this country, and a good beginning has been made this season in its collection and preparation. The peculiar properties possessed by this plant render it of great value to tanners, for use in the tanning of hides. Until recently we have been largely dependent for supplies upon foreign countries, mainly Sicily, and we notice that a cargo of sumac is now due in Philadelphia, which will cost, when laid down in that market, over $140 per ton, gold.

Circulation, Again.

After the style of puffery adopted by quacks, the Bulletin has set up a claim to the largest circulation of any newspaper in Oregon! We have challenged this assertion. It proposes a method of deciding the question, which is entirely inadmissible. Its proposition is that we shall send a man to count its edition, and it will send a man to count ours. And they two shall certify the result. It will be seen at once that this might be no test at all. The pressman in either office having a paper always ready might print just as many sheets as he chose.

Both papers are furnished at the one price per week. A comparison of weekly receipts for subscriptions for the space of a few months, would tell the story. Cash books, with their accounts running from month to month, can't be "doctored."

We mentioned the value of carriers' routes in this city as an index. The Bulletin says:

> So far as the value of the carriers' routes is concerned, we fail to discover whereupon the OREGONIAN editor founds his calculation. The carriers' routes of the Bulletin are not for sale, nor have they been offered for sale many months past. But whatever their worth we are sure of one thing—that the carrier of the Bulletin would not trade his routes for the routes of the carriers of the OREGONIAN unless he received in addition a premium. He does not want to sell, however, or to trade with the OREGONIAN on any terms. It is to be supposed that when a person has a good thing in the way of business or property he likes to hang on to it.

This is mere puffery. We can tell this public and the Bulletin besides that within the past month one-third the carrier's route for that paper in this city has been offered for sale, and moreover that it has been sold. The owner had long offered it for one thousand dollars in cash. Finally he made a trade, by which he received in barter and dicker what he estimated at twelve hundred dollars. This was not money, but call it money, and the present value of the Bulletin's routes in the whole city would be thirty-six hundred dollars.

For distribution of the OREGONIAN the city is divided into two routes, one north and one south of Alder street. This street is almost the exact middle of the city. A few days ago one-fourth of one of these routes sold for nine hundred dollars in cash. Within the past month one thousand dollars cash was offered for one-fourth of one route, or one eighth of the city, and refused. The difference, therefore, between eight thousand dollars and three thousand six hundred dollars, is the difference between the value of the carriers' routes for the two papers in this city. Of course the owners of the Bulletin's routes "wouldn't trade for the routes of the OREGONIAN, unless they received a premium!" This piece of brag is eminently in the Bulletin's style.

The small value of the Bulletin's routes is doubtless attributable to two causes. One of them is the smallness of that paper's circulation as compared with the OREGONIAN'S, and the other is the general knowledge that the Bulletin is a losing enterprise, and that it could not survive a month, were the liberal hand withdrawn that sustains it.

The position of the Bulletin is well understood. It was started and exists solely as an advocate of certain special and personal interests, and not as a legitimate journalistic enterprise. It views all subjects solely as they may affect or be affected by the special and personal interests it serves. In other words, it was not started, it has not been kept up at so great a sacrifice of money, to serve the public, or with any expectation of its making money of itself, but simply as an auxiliary of other interests. All its utterances are warped by its special devotion to those interests, and it has no duty but to guard them. Of course a journal so conducted can never gain any high position in public favor or confidence, and its importance will decline rather than increase, as the State grows and the railroad interests relatively diminish. These are facts which are generally perceived. We did not intend, however, to state them, and would not have done so, had not the Bulletin foolishly introduced a disputation about business affairs, with a view of injuring the OREGONIAN.

LETTER FROM SALEM.

SALEM, July 18, 1872.

The most important news we have here at the present time is that the mercury has gone "gone up." Yesterday it went to 98 degrees and we may soon expect to see its shares reach par, and whenever it commands a premium I shall sell out my interest and "unload" mortal cares and take stock in some other world—I hope not a hotter one. The effect of Greeley's nomination on Grover's Mercury has been somewhat alarming, but since the Herald has got to be "red hot,"—hotter than ever Greeley was in his "thirty years' war" against slavery and Democracy—the poor little Mercury gives it up that its big elder brother down at your town can change base and make flank movements faster than lays in its poor, provincial bones to do.

Every day I meet Democratic veterans of all the wars—including secession—of the last generation, who swear—yes, they swear profoundly—that Democracy is dead, and that they won't go the nauseating mixture Cincinnati and Baltimore has prepared for them. These earnest and sincere old liners will not vote for President or recognize any man as elected, but will move into the Forks of the Santiam, to Long Tom and Soap Creek, and there plant independent Democracy, beyond the reach of human cares or governments. Our old friend, Ben Hayden, will head one of these expeditions to found a modern Rome. Ex-Gov. Whiteaker will be the Remus of Long Tom, and old Joe Lane has life enough left in him, after the ten years' Trojan siege Democracy has suffered, to be the Æneas for another hegira in search of godlike liberty, and I am going to see if I can't eclipse Homer, Virgil and Xenophon by writing of 'em up.

HO, FOR THE MOUNTAINS!

Since the mercury has so much increased our people have commenced to scatter in all directions. They hunt for the mountains about as Noah's cotemporaries did after thirty days of that deluge had taken a rise on them. Some go to Clear Lake, some to Silver Creek, some to Soda Springs; and a procession of wagons forty miles long is now crossing the Coast Range to get to sniff the salt air of the Pacific and bathe in its hyperborean water, which, you know, carry the flavor and savor of icebergs all through the summer, and so make bathing an act of heroism. I know, because my heroism was extensively tested once, in that way. There is this advantage about Oregon sea bathing, a bather needn't be afraid of sharks, for if one should take him he would be too numb to feel it. Some of our folks who can manage their expense accounts so as to have cash enough on hand, go to Yaquina, where they board at the Newport Ocean House, and have the nicest kind of a time. Others voyage away in hacks and farm wagons to the Salmon river beach and camp along the margin of the sea, or they navigate by the same means to the head waters of the streams at the foot of Mounts Hood and Jefferson, or enjoy the cultivated society of the Three Sisters; some go a fishing. Others, with no cash to invest, stay at home and live as well as a thoroughly developed credit system will let them, on the good things they can buy without money, but at a somewhat advanced price. These last sensibly enjoy the "Pleasures of Home," and I am philosopher enough to make one of them.

It seems that our Democratic friends are very bitter against Marion county juries. One of the Salem Ring writes pipes to the Herald that our "jurors in the case of the State vs. May were perjured villains," which remark was more decorous than what was probably intended. The first jury agreed in five minutes, I think, and several Democrats were on it. One of them told me they not only didn't prove the money to belong to the State, but that he believed that the prosecution was conducted for political purposes more than for justice, and he was heartily tired of the whole thing. All the men who couldn't agree on the next jury were Republicans. So the comments are as gratuitous as unreasonable.

It seems that they couldn't draw indictments any better than they drew "juries," but that there was a way, established by precedent, too, by which May could have been convicted, is a certainty. They should have made enough, and strong enough affidavits to have the case removed to Linn county, where a partisan jury could easily have been packed down and salted for the occasion, and they would thus have been sure of a Democratic victory. It would only have been necessary to provide some one of Judge Bonham's brother-in-law a good paying position in the penitentiary before filing the application for a change of venue, which happens to be a part of the precedent, and then the thing would have been sure. It is also a part of the formula in such cases to take up a sufficient number of "trusties" from the State prison to swear to whatever is necessary to make a case. What has been done can be done again. As the prosecution threw away all these chances for a sure thing, they must not complain that they were discomfeited.

THAT CASE PRECEDENT.

Somehow or other this talk about precedent reminds me of the Clarke-Watkinds case, which went to Linn county and was put through on regular schedule time. Something in one of my letters has certainly nonsuited the immaculate keeper of the State stOeals, whose fiery visage, I am told, blazed fiercely at the plaintiff in the above case the other day, and accosted him with a lively threat that he would "go after him again." He seemed to charge my performances on to Clarke. When you have shot a man in the back and rendered him physically useless for life, you have him where to "go for him again" is a good thing to brag about. This incident merely shows that when such a man controls the pardoning power, and the Courts are debased and prostituted to the service of political ruffians, crime becomes bold and justice becomes a mockery. Stick to the law, William. Start libel suits and swear them into Linn county, and as there "judgment has fled to brutish beasts," you can get judgment to your heart's content. Though, for the matter of that, why should he not "go after" whom he pleases, with what weapon he pleases, and shoot those who can't appreciate his virtues, in the back? He has a Court to rule always in his favor, to grant changes of venue where he likes, and he has Linn county brim full of juries to approve his attempts to assassinate. And best of all, he has Grover, who stands ready to pardon and keep him in office. If there is any virtue in the saying, "When you have a good thing, press it," he should improve his opportunities. There sometimes does come, however, "a fearful looking for of judgment" that waits for no Court or jury, when justice has been outraged too long.

"PUT HIM OUT."

This is the cry which goes up from honest men of all parties about here. It is proven that Grover dares not, cannot turn him out. Men like him become in turn the tools of their instruments, and all men recognize such to be the case in this instance. The people wait to see action by the next Legislature to place the Penitentiary in other hands, and when that is done and the present incumbent is returned to grace that career of private life to which he belongs, he will have sunk out of sight, where he will never be considered worth the notice of

R. W. Marcy, traveling over the hills and prairies in the Snake river country, found two Chinamen who had been without food or water for forty-eight hours. He gave them water from his canteen and piloted them to the river.

Away up north at Boise City it gets warm—in fact, we might say it grows sultry; yea, it waxes exceedingly hot, and the mercury goes up, up, up, until in a cool place it finds one hundred and seven, or in the genial sunshine it reposes at 110°. So says the Boise Standard.

On the evening of the 14th inst. a man named ... [illegible], went out to bathe in Oregon Creek near Pumphrey's, since which time he has not been seen. It is supposed he was drowned, as his ... hat and a purse containing $16 was found on the bank of the creek the next day. He had come over to Pumphrey's from the Sound country only a few days before.

THE GREATEST MEN. Henry Ward Beecher says: "Aaron Burr was a keener thinker than George Washington. He was a far more ingenious, a far more active man, and, if he had been a moral man, and had maintained normal relations with himself, with fellow-men, and with the laws of rectitude, he would have been an abler man. Washington was a man of good sense, but he was not a man of genius in any direction except that of conscience. He was a man of singular equity, great disinterestedness, and of pure and upright intent. Sagacious he was, by a light which comes from integrity. He endured, having faith to believe that right was right, and that right was safe, and that right in the end would prevail. That which made Washington the great hero of our revolutionary struggle, was the light of the moral element that was in him—not any intellectual genius which he possessed, not any rare tact of administration, or any remarkable executive power. And if you look back upon those names in our history that have best stood the test, you will find that they have been men who were fruitful in the highest moral elements. And as time goes on, those men who lack these elements sink lower and lower, till they set below the horizon, and those who possess them rise higher, till they reach the meridian, with undying splendor to shine upon history and the world."

A colored preacher at Sparta, a short time ago, was heard to say in a funeral sermon of a deceased brother: "He ruminates no longer amongst us. He have been eradicated from the syllogisms of this world's determination, and when he gets to de cold, dry stream of the river Jordan, the Kerubims and Perspikins will meet him dare to row him over on dry land to a lubricating city."

The Salem Statesman, speaking of the coming harvest, says: "A trip anywhere in the country at the present time will reveal the fact that harvest is near at hand. The grain is fast ripening, and soon the rattle of machinery can be heard in every field."

A gentleman at Oregon City sends us an account of an affair which happened at that place and on the cars last Wednesday, in which the Marshal, a man named Graves, and the conductor on the passenger train, were all somewhat unpleasantly mixed up. It seems that Mr Graves refused to pay for a package of candy he had eaten upon the cars, and thereupon an altercation ensued between him and the conductor. Graves made a complaint before the Recorder when the train reached Oregon City, and the Marshal went aboard the cars to arrest the conductor. The conductor ordered the train to start, which order was obeyed, and the Marshal, not having time to get off, was soon out of his jurisdiction. Being finally let off the cars, the officer walked back to town, not knowing how to get even with the accused conductor. But on Thursday the conductor gave himself up, and, pleading guilty to a charge of assault and battery, was fined and discharged. But his troubles did not end here. He was rearrested and put under bonds to appear before the Grand Jury to answer an accusation of having resisted an officer. A brakeman on the same train was similarly dealt with. The affair created a good deal of excitement and considerable sport to the Oregon City people.

Trumbull and Schurz, the great instigators and organizers of the Cincinnati movement, find themselves bound hand and foot to the car of a fantastic and incapable leader who courts with wanton infatuation the ruinous favor of the Democracy. They go, and they know that they go, into hopeless slavery to their life-long enemies. They fomented an insurrection they are powerless to control. They sowed the wind and are reaping the whirlwind.—Boston Advertiser.

Remarkable Cure of Mr. Abram Tully.

SAN JOSE, August 2, 1871.

DR. A. M. LOEYS & CO.: Some two years since I was taken down with Inflammatory Rheumatism, and was for some time treated by two physicians, but got no better. I tried nearly every remedy I heard of, but nothing seemed to do me any good until about two weeks ago I was advised by Judge Johnson to try your UNK WEED REMEDY. I procured one bottle and was entirely cured. For six weeks before taking the UNK I was compelled to go upon crutches. I consider your remedy a great blessing to suffering humanity, and shall deem it my duty to inform all Rheumatics of its great virtues. Yours, etc.

DIED.

July 18, 1872, at 9:30 P. M., Mrs. S. H. West, wife of Col. West, who has been for many years in the employ of Wells, Fargo & Co.

Friends are invited to attend the funeral at the house this morning at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Mary Gates, mother of Mrs. James M. Blossom, of this city, died in Washington City, D. C., June 23, 1872, at 8 o'clock P. M., after a long and painful illness, aged 96 years.

Mother Gates was a devout member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, having joined in early childhood and remained faithful until death. Sublimely beautiful is the life of one who for so many years held to the sacred cross of Jesus and adorned by her life and conversation the doctrines of her adorable Redeemer. Her death was not less so in that, while it terminated the weary toil and painful sufferings incident to human life, it was the introduction of her happy soul, washed in the blood of the Lamb, to the society of the holy and happy in Heaven. "Her children rise up and call her blessed."

FRIDAY MORNING JULY [illegible]

GENERAL [illegible] Hooker was serenaded at the evening [illegible] Arlington House [illegible] band [illegible] received [illegible] the several military organizations [illegible] the Emmet [illegible] Montgomery Guard [illegible] together with [illegible] and Army of the [illegible] and Mex[illegible] and headed by [illegible] band [illegible] marched to the hotel. The companies were placed in proper order front of the [illegible] and [illegible] were made for [illegible] Joe [illegible] appeared [illegible] the window [illegible] a few remarks [illegible] the hero [illegible] the crowd.

[illegible] came forward and spoke a few minutes. He commenced by saying that he was no speaker nor never had been; had never yet made a speech, nor he supposed never would. [Laughter and cheers.] He was a thousand times obliged to the crowd and especially to the military for the honor thus shown to a poor old soldier who had contributed his [illegible] to rescue the Government from the hands of the rebels. [Prolonged applause.] The late [illegible] conflict was past, peace restored to the distracted country and slavery that curse of curses wiped away, and he fervently thanked God. The people of this generation could never realize what had been secured to the country by the results of the war nor never appreciate the efforts made by the officers and soldiers. Great responsibilities had been imposed on the shoulders of the leaders who conducted and guided the war. Some had made [illegible] was among the number his humble self. But if his head had failed his heart had never [illegible] in the great work [great applause] before him. He paid a handsome compliment to the gallantry and soldierly conduct of the American army, that although the Southern troops had fought in [illegible] had cause, cowardice or want of bravery could never be imputed to them. No [illegible] in the world could boast of more courage than those of the Union. If during the late Franco-Prussian war the Prussians had stood face to face and fought against Americans instead of debauched Frenchmen the results of the war might have been very different. The victory of the Germans was more attributable to the want of courage and discipline in the army of France than to great superiority in their soldiery. [illegible] might lack discipline but never courage. [Cheers.] What was passed was forever [illegible], and he thought that the people of the South although defeated acquiesced heartily in the results; that they had been whipped but were thankful to their chastisers. By the war slavery had been abolished and the people of the South were glad of it. He felt proud that in his feeble efforts to preserve the integrity of the Government he had assisted toward the accomplishment of that result.

In conclusion he said that there were many things which it would not do to tell now but [illegible] would be known in time. The country [illegible] have peace after the 4th of next March; that we were now engaged in a war as much as during the rebellion.

[The language of the General was rather ambiguous when compared with what had been previously said and did not appear to be perfectly understood by the crowd at first, but it is presumable that it was a covert thrust at the present Administration and a "feeler" for the Sage of Chappaqua. However our readers can form their own conclusions.—REPORTER.]

After thanking the crowd again and again for their kind attentions to him and telling them that he would be happy to see them all at his room, the General retired amid prolonged applause.

The band played several National airs after which the companies were re-formed and marched back to their respective armories and the reception was at an end.

FROM ASTORIA.—Our special correspondent from Astoria under date of the 1[illegible]th writes:

This has been the hottest day of the season and yet it is cool enough to make Portlanders feel quite comfortable.

Colonel Baldwin, Superintendent of the Custom House at this place, arrived per steamer John L Stephens last evening and will resume work on the Custom House immediately.

A new lot of pilots for the Columbia river bar have recently received commissions from the Board of Pilot Commissioners of Washington Territory. Mr Hubbard, late of the United States Coast Survey, and Mr Johnson, an employe of the old pilot company, are the new pilots. They took the bark Corea to sea to-day. The [illegible] was towed out by the steam tug Varuna, Captain Gray. Washington Territory claims equal jurisdiction over the waters of the Columbia with Oregon, so the new pilots have equal rights with Oregon pilots. It is thought that the competition likely to arise in this branch of business will have a very beneficial effect on commerce.

There are now three steam tugs here, the Mer[illegible], Astoria and [illegible], all ready to tow or transport freight and passengers.

Ample preparations have been made in Astoria and on the Clatsop Beach to accommodate health and pleasure seekers. As many as choose to come can find comfortable quarters. Those now here are having a jolly good time and [illegible] about three pounds per day.

THE RACES.—As was mentioned in our last issue, there was a race on the last voyage between the barks Jane A. Falkinburg and D. C. Murray. The vessels sailed from Honolulu on the [illegible]th of last month. The Jane A. Falkinburg was bound for Portland and the D. C. Murray for San Francisco. A considerable sum of money was wagered by the respective Captains that one of the vessels would reach the San Francisco bar before the other arrived at the Columbia river bar. Both vessels sailed at the same time. For a while the D. C. Murray passed to the windward and kept in advance, but soon the Jane A. Falkinburg shot off from her rival and saw nothing more of her during the passage. The Columbia was [illegible] in 18 days and 6 hours although there were but four sailors on board the vessel. At the latest accounts the D. C. Murray had not reached her destination and so the Falkinburg has clearly won the stakes. Both vessels are regarded as rapid sailers, especially the Falkinburg, which is considered one of the fastest vessels on the coast. She sailed from the bar to Honolulu on her last return voyage in 14 days and was just 13 days in making the passage from the bar and back again, including the time required to discharge and receive cargo. This time has not been made by any other sailing vessel.

MATTER [illegible]—[illegible] this city has not been visited by a destructive fire. This is a matter of wonder when the [illegible] of the place is taken into [illegible] and the material [illegible] a sweeping conflagration which can be found. As a general thing there is but little precaution taken to guard against the destroyer. Along the old decaying wharves and lumber piles to be found on Front [illegible] abundant combustibles which only require during this weather, a match [illegible] a pipe, or cigar [illegible] which would [illegible]. When once fairly started it would be no easy [illegible] arrest the course of the flames. [illegible] break out some of these [illegible] question if we should not have one of [illegible] Chicago scenes in miniature.

THIEVES.—Some unknown persons entered the cellar of a gentleman up on Third street a few nights ago and purloined a number of articles therefrom.

A gentleman residing on Salmon street [illegible] had his cellar entered a few nights since by several light-fingered gentlemen and a quantity of potatoes and other edibles stolen.

Some burglars penetrated the residence of Mr Pierre Hanet the other night, stole various articles of clothing and most of the [illegible] taken was [illegible]. The family were compelled to borrow [illegible] on which to breakfast the following morning, [illegible] cards left nor [illegible].

AN OLD [illegible]—The [illegible] bought [illegible] the engine formerly used in the [illegible] side wheel steamer [illegible] for the last [illegible] condemned and abandoned [illegible] about 1[illegible] and [illegible] Portland and [illegible] been used [illegible] said to be about as good [illegible]. The engine is somewhat [illegible] be shipped [illegible] be used in driving [illegible] saw mill there.

AGAINST [illegible].—The [illegible] the city [illegible] Dodge and the [illegible] John O'Neil $[illegible] Daniel [illegible] $15 [illegible] favor of [illegible] been [illegible]

the city to recover the several amounts claimed for services alleged to have been rendered as policemen before and during the [illegible] when the late election was held. The case was contested by the City Attorney M F Mulkey and we learn will be appealed. These will be test cases, as there are about twenty persons in the city who claim to have rendered [illegible] services.

BY [illegible]—To [illegible] law when [illegible] ordering them [illegible]. We are [illegible] there are [illegible] secured their license. [illegible] such we would urge them to do so at once. [illegible] an official call from Lappeus [illegible] costs. It is wise to be on the safe side.

ABANDONED.—The proposed excursion to [illegible] off under the auspices of the [illegible] Band, to Astoria and [illegible] was announced [illegible] has been abandoned [illegible] sequence of the band not being able to effect a factory arrangements with the O S N Co in regard to the charter of one of its boats.

ASSAULT [illegible].—Wm [illegible] O'Reily committed an assault on the person of A B H[illegible] yesterday afternoon. He was taken into custody at once and the case will come up before Judge Denny this morning. There exists a variety of reports as to the real cause of the assault, and as we have been unable to ascertain which is the correct one we refrain from comment.

NARROW ESCAPE.—A driver on one of the lumber wagons of the city was jolted off yesterday at the corner of First and Stark streets. The wheel passed over one of his legs and would have passed over his head also if the team had not been timely stopped. Fortunately the wagon had on a light load so that the driver escaped with only a bruised limb.

SMOKY.—A gentleman from down the river states that heavy fires are now raging in the mountains on both sides of the river. The clouds of smoke renders objects at any distance very obscure and are daily growing heavier. We shall probably hear of destruction of property, fences etc. soon until precautions are timely observed.

DISMISSED.—The parties who were arrested by Chief Lappeus for keeping pigeon holes etc., without licenses, were brought before Judge Denny yesterday morning. The parties gave fruit meet for repentance, obtained the licenses required, paid all costs and the cases were forthwith dismissed.

COMPROMISED.—Fletcher Hammond was arrested yesterday on the complaint of L M Starr that the defendant had been guilty of larceny by bailee. The cause was to have been tried before Justice Dodge but was compromised, the case dismissed and the defendant released from custody.

SENATOR CORBETT.—The dispatches announce that Senator Corbett arrived at San Francisco on Wednesday evening overland from the east. He will probably be in this city in a few days.

SALUTE.—During the reception and serenade given Gen Hooker last evening a salute of thirteen guns was fired by the Portland Light Battery.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

PERSONAL, LOCAL AND GENERAL.

[From the Advocate.]

Rev J A Allyn of Sheridan gave us a call this week.

The campmeeting of the South Umpqua and Wilbur circuits held on the Umpqua river opposite Garden Valley beginning June 14th continued ten days.

Bro R M McTier informs us that the Dayton campmeeting closed on July 8th, having been protracted over two Sabbaths. Eight or nine were converted and as many joined the Church.

A basket meeting will be held on the picnic grounds at Hubbard's station, Rock creek circuit, July 20th and 21st. Services at 11 A M and 2 P M on the grounds, and at 7½ P M at White's schoolhouse.

Rev W H Miesse, pastor of the Hall street M E Church, has been granted a leave of absence for two weeks by his congregation. He started for the coast on Monday intending to spend that time in recruiting his health.

Rev C C Stratton, one of our ablest and most popular ministers, has been appointed by Bishop Foster to the charge of the First M E Church at Salt Lake City. Bro Stratton proposes to leave for his new field of labor week after next.

The Beaverton and Ames Chapel Sunday schools will unite in giving a Missionary concert at Ames Chapel next Sunday at 10 o'clock A M. Among other addresses will be one by Prof M G Royal of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary.

The Yamhill campmeeting held near Sheridan July [illegible] and 5th and renewed on the following Saturday and Sunday resulted in the accession to the Church of ten members on probation; twelve were received into full connection and three by letter. Six infants were baptized and eight adults.

EAST PORTLAND MATTERS.

[From the Era.]

A musical entertainment and ice cream festival for the benefit of East Portland Lodge No 6[illegible] I O O F will be given at the Odd Fellows Hall in this city on Monday evening July [illegible]d.

The monthly concert at the M E Church last Sunday was a very pleasant affair. The singing by the young ladies was really excellent, while the declamations of the little ones were amusing.

L street bridge has been completed and is a very imposing structure. It is constructed in a very substantial manner and much credit is due the contractors who had the building in charge.

Mr David Rafferty of the East Portland Dispensary, while lifting a glass jar from one of the shelves in the store one day during the present week, lost his [illegible] and [illegible] against another broke and nearly severed the thumb from his right hand. The wound is a painful one but nothing serious will probably result from it.

San Francisco papers are proverbial for making mistakes about matters in this city. And now comes the Bulletin and avers that some enterprising creature in Portland intends soon to start a new daily, as if we haven't enough already.

The opponents of Grant's administration are moving heaven and earth to overthrow it. The worst element of the South, the scum of the North, the repudiators, the disorganizers, the moral jackals who prey on graveyards and feed fat on slander, falsehood and corruption, are received with open arms into the new party that has but one motto on its banners: "Anything to beat Grant." Keep it up, gentlemen! The honest millions have met the same crowd before and the old result will be duplicated in November next. The grand old party of freedom, whose banners are unstained, whose ranks are filled with honest patriots, whose triumphal march is the march of justice and civilization, will win a victory under its trusted leader over which the friends of freedom everywhere will rejoice.

CORRECTNESS GUARANTEED. THE SAME AS [illegible]

A Cool Robber.

Policeman Badger, of the tenth Station, had a bit of experience the other night which he is not fond of talking about. It was past midnight as he was leisurely pushing his beat through Jessup street, and as he came opposite to Drayton & Fogg's jewelry store, he observed gleams of light through the chinks of the shutters and he rapped at the door.

"Is that you [illegible]," asked a voice within.

"Yes," answered Badger.

"Well, [illegible] chilly out, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"Thought [illegible]. Good night."

Badger said, "Good night," and pursued his way.

An hour afterward Badger passed through Jessup street again, and again he saw the light in the jewelry store. It didn't look right, and he again banged loudly at the door.

"Halloo!" cried the voice within. "Is it you, policeman?"

"Yes."

"All right. Won't you come in and warm you? It won't hurt anything for you to slip from your beat a few minutes."

The door was opened and policeman Badger entered, and he found the inmate to be a very gentlemanly looking man, in a linen duster.

"Come right up to the stove, policeman. Excuse me a moment."

The man took the ash pan from the bottom of the stove, and carried it down the cellar and emptied it, and when he had returned and wiped his hands, he said with a smile:

"Chilly night, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"Chilly outside, and dull inside. (Another smile.) New goods for the Spring trade, and we have to keep our eyes open. Lonesome work this watching all night, but I manage to find a bit of comfort in this. Won't you join me in a tip? You'll find it the pure thing."

Policeman Badger partook, and having wiped his lips, and given his fingers a new warming, he left the store and resumed his beat, satisfied that all was right in Drayton & Fogg's.

But the morning brought a new revealment. Drayton & Fogg's store had been robbed, during the night, of $6,000 worth of watches and jewelry; and though policeman Badger carries in his mind an exact daguerreotype of the robber, the adroit rascal has not yet been found.—N. Y. Tribune.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

THURSDAY, July 18, 1872.

Gold in New York to-day, 114½.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 87½c buying; 88½c selling.

The Jane A. Falkinberg reached port this morning from Honolulu. She brings the following freight: 1,573 bbls sugar, 3,445 kegs sugar, 72 sks sugar, 600 bbls molasses, 4,090 limes, 200 gold fish—total, 400 tons.

The Spanish bark Manila cleared from Hongkong for Portland on the 29th May. Her cargo consists of 10,009 mats rice, 500 cs oil, 100 bbls molasses, 16 cases opium, 36 bales paper, 30 rolls matting and 1,766 pkgs sundries.

The brig Perpetua having completed the discharge of her cargo, will go down the river to Cementville to-morrow morning, where she will load with lumber for San Francisco.

The Statesman (Salem) says: Advices so far from the various sections of the State, with regard to the grain [illegible] are flattering. In Marion county the yield will be far greater than was anticipated a month ago. The same is true of Yamhill, Polk, Benton, Linn and Lane. The rain of a couple of weeks ago will be worth a million dollars to our State. It is thought that the yield in Oregon this year will compare with that of any year previous.

Usually at this time the larger portion of the clip has been marketed, but the present season has been an exception in this as in other respects. Nearly the whole production, while still on the sheep's back, was bought up by local buyers, who were influenced by the reported scarcity of Wool and the excited condition of other markets. Growers, therefore, did not hurry their Wools into market, especially as the continued cool weather retarded shearing, and but little Wool was received before the middle of April. Since that time stocks constantly accumulated, until holders, preferring to try the Eastern market, began shipping. Transactions have been limited and prices have continually declined, until quotations to-day are about twenty per cent. less than would have been paid by Eastern buyers at the beginning of the season, and the tendency is still downward.

The New York Economist maintains that Wool is now as low in Eastern markets as it will be this year. The clip, it says, is no larger than last year, and is below the wants of the country.

The Boston Shipping List of the 4th inst. says: "A lot of 750 bbls new Oregon Flour has been received here by Messrs. Gayle & Co., via rail from San Francisco in 30 days, at an expense of $3 50 ₩ bbl. The Flour proves to be of very superior quality and is held here at $10 50 ₩ bbl. This Flour was attracted here by the high prices some months ago, and cannot now be sold except at considerable loss on cost."

Domestic Produce.

WHEAT—We can give no quotations. There are no transactions to note for shipping. The opinion is becoming more and more settled that prices for the new crop must rule low. We do not see how farmers can realize much more than 60c per bushel. Reasons for this belief have already been presented. Those now holding Wheat (new crop) prefer to take the chance for higher prices. Most of the mills through the interior have closed down for the present.

FLOUR—Demand limited. We have, however, to note during the week a number of orders from Puget Sound. Prices unchanged, but tendency in buyers' favor. Standard Extras, $5 75; choice country, $5 25a5 50; outside and superfine, $4 50@5 00 bbl.

BUTTER—Receipts are more free and prices decline. Choice roll, 35c ₩ lb. Good to common, 18a25c.

EGGS—Still quotable at 30c per dozen.

BACON—Eastern is still in good supply, with no change in prices. It is thought, however, that a slight advance may occur soon, and the market in San Francisco shows more firmness. We quote Sides at 13½@14½c, Hams, 16@17½c; Shoulders, 11c. Lard, 14@15c.

WOOL—There are no transactions, and but little offering. Quotations may be put at 25a27½c ₩ lb, according to grade.

HIDES—Market firm. Dry at 18c, but controlled according to quality. Salted, 8c. Sheep pelts, 15@15c.

TALLOW—Quotable at 7a8c per lb.

POTATOES—Large lots of Oregon are on the market, breaking down prices. Jobbing lots are quotable at 1½c ₩ lb, as an average rate.

CATTLE—Good beef animals, [illegible] per lb. Sheep, [illegible] per head. Hogs, on foot, [illegible]

Markets

(BY TELEGRAPH.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—Flour—The outside jobbing price for extra, $6 12½; for round lots range $5 50a[illegible] ₩ barrel.

Wheat—We consider market strong at $1 50@1 60. Sales have been made for August to be delivered at about $1 57½. There are about 20 vessels under engagement to load.

Barley—New quoted at $1 35a1 45. Sale 400 sacks of choice old $1 60.

Oats—There are no lots in first hands; jobbing $1 [illegible]. Lot of 1,500 sks new hourly expected.

[illegible]—Quotable at $1@1 12½.

Corn—none in first hands; jobbing, $1 75 for yellow, $1 [illegible] for white. No more expected until the new crop is ready.

Cornmeal—Firm at 2a2½c ₩ lb.

Rye—Quiet at 80c.

Buckwheat—Nominal at $1 75.

Wool—10,000 lbs choice, 34c; 47,000 lbs various grades, current rates. Stock about 2,000,000. Demand light and rates nominal at 20@35c for all grades.

Hides—1,500 California, usual selection, [illegible] salted 8½c ₩ lb.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

The Republican Party of the United States, assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia, on the 5th and 6th days of June, 1872, again declares its faith, appeals to its history, and announces its position upon the questions before the country:

1. During the eleven years of its supremacy it has accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of the time. It suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four millions of slaves, decreed the equal citizenship of all, and established universal suffrage. Exhibiting unparalleled magnanimity, it criminally punished no man for political offenses, and has warmly welcomed all who proved their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors. It has steadily decreased with firm hand the resultant disorders of a great war, and initiated a wise policy toward the Indians. The Pacific Railroad and similar vast enterprises have been generously aided and successfully conducted to completion; the public lands have been freely given to actual settlers, immigration has been protected and encouraged, and a full acknowledgment of the rights of naturalized citizens secured from European powers. In the form of National currency, it has provided for the National credit, and sustained it under the most extraordinary burdens. It has negotiated new bonds at lower rates of interest. The revenues have been carefully collected and honestly applied. Despite the annual large reductions from the rate of taxation, the public debt has been reduced during U. S. Grant's Presidency at the rate of $100,000,000 per year. A great financial crisis has been averted, and peace and plenty prevail throughout the land. Menacing foreign difficulties have been peacefully and honorably compromised, and the honor and power of the Nation kept in a high position throughout the world. This glorious record of the past is the party's best pledge for the future, and we believe that the people will not entrust the government to any party or combination of men, composed of those who chiefly have resisted every step in this beneficial progress.

2. Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and Federal legislation. Neither law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect to citizens by reason of race, creed, color, or previous condition of servitude.

3. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are law, and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation, the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured the amendments.

4. The National Government seeks to maintain an honorable peace with all nations, protecting its citizens everywhere, and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty.

5. Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the Government are considered rewards for mere party zeal, is fatally demoralizing, and we therefore favor a reform of the system, by a law which shall abolish the evils of patronage and make honesty, efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public position, without practically creating a life-tenure of office.

6. We are opposed to further grants of public lands to corporations and monopolies, and demand that the National domain be set apart for free settlement by the people.

7. The annual revenue, after paying current debts, should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal of the public debt, and except so much as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors, be raised by duties on importations, which should be adjusted to aid in securing remunerative wages to laborers, and to promote the industries and growth and prosperity of the whole country.

8. We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union. Their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation, and the widows and orphans of those who died for the country are entitled to the care of a generous and grateful people. We favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the Government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged, and who in the time of duty became disabled, without regard to length of service or the cause of such discharge.

9. The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance, once a subject always a subject, having at last, through the efforts of the Republican party, been abandoned, and the American idea of the right of an individual to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations, it is the duty of our Government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former Government, and we urge a continued and careful encouragement and protection to voluntary emigration.

10. The franking privilege ought to be abolished and a way proposed for reductions in the rates of postage.

11. Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor, and the Republican party recognize the duty of shaping legislation so as to secure a full protection and ample field for capital, and for labor which creates capital, the largest opportunities and a just share of the mutual profits of these two great servants of civilization.

12. We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an important duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions and for the protection of the ballot, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the Nation.

13. We denounce the repudiation of public debts, in any form or disguise, as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of that debt, and of the rates of interest upon the balance, and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption to specie payment.

14. The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom, their application for admission to further usefulness is received with satisfaction; and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15. We heartily approve of the action of Congress in granting amnesty to those engaged in the rebellion, and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16. The Republican party proposes to respect all rights reserved by the people to themselves, as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and Territorial governments. It disapproves of resorting to unconstitutional laws for the purpose of removing evils by the interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or National Government.

17. It is the duty of the General Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship-building.

18. We believe that the modest patriotism, the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, incorruptible integrity and illustrious services of U. S. Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people, and with him at our head we start today on a new march to victory.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian. jy6d4pt
